Tree Planter In County

This Beloit-Lowther rough land tree planting machine, pulled by a Caterpillar D-4 tractor, has been used in demonstrations this week on the John Lauder tract of land on Rt. 604, in the southern section of the county. The machine will plant between 8,000 and 10,000 seedlings per day on previously cutover land, County forester Warren Taylor and Chief Forest Warden David Smith feel that this machine will play a vital part in the county's tree planting program in the future. They invite landowners to inquire about the machine. Tree seedling orders are now being taken by Taylor and Smith, with matching programs available to buyers.

Squad Answers 24 Calls

Because of the recent first-aid training course offered to Appomattox citizens, the Rescue Squad is now being staffed partly by women, and "the ladies are helping a lot," says Squad reporter G. P. Beasley, Jr.

In February Squad men and women covered 1384 miles to answer 24 calls. They spent 142 hours in rendering assistance.

The St. Paul, which has fired more rounds of ammunition during its 25-year history than any other Navy ship in history, has completed four deployments to Vietnam since 1966 and is preparing for a fifth.

Women Count In Census '70

Housewives -- would you like to get out of the house, meet new people, visit homes, have something different and interesting to do every day for a few weeks this spring, and get paid for it?

If your answer is "Yes", then you may be just what the U. S. Bureau of the Census is looking for to help take the 1970 Census of Population and Housing which begins April 1.

Mrs. Barbara R. Aldridge, District Manager, says about 200 workers are needed in the district. Housewives especially are urged to apply because past experience has shown the Census Bureau that they are careful, conscientious workers, and unlike most men, who have regular employment, they can take on short-term jobs. The District Manager adds that most housewives welcome the chance to earn some extra money.

The jobs are for enumerators, the official name for census takers, who will call upon households. In general, enumerators will work in or near the area where they live.

The jobs will last from three to five weeks beginning March 30.

Pay will be on a piece rate basis, which is designed to average $2.50 per hour nationally. If a car is required, mileage will be paid. In addition, enumerators will be paid for training if they accept a work assignment.

Applicants must be U. S. Citizens, 18 or older, and must pass a written test to show ability to follow printed instructions, and do simple arithmetic. They should be able to walk a lot, climb stairs, hear and hear well. It is desirable that most have a car and a home telephone, but they have to make some calls at home in the evenings and on Saturdays.

Ladies Of Four Generations

Family get-togethers are usually a pleasure to everyone, and especially so when four generations of the same family are represented. This is the case with Mrs. Jamie Chernault of Route 3, Appomattox; her daughter, Mrs. C. W. McCormick and her daughter, Mrs. William S. (Cy) Cumbie and Lisa Brooke, all of Roanoke, Virginia.

Suffolk Man Wants To Run For Congress

Suffolk — William P. Davis, Suffolk School Board chairman and a former assistant U. S. attorney, has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the 4th District congressional seat held by Democrat Watkins M. Abbitt.

Davis, 48, took active roles in the Eisenhower campaign in 1952, in the Nixon campaign in 1968, and in Gov. Linwood Holton's campaign.

He was assistant U. S. attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia from 1953 to 1957.

Another Republican, Dr. James M. Helms, Jr., 42, a history professor at Longwood College in Farmville, also is seeking the nomination at the Republican district convention in Petersburg, March 21.

Abbitt is opposed for the Democratic nomination by Peter M. Axson, Chesapeake commonwealth's attorney, who has said he may not participate in the April 11 Democratic nominating convention.

Mail Carrier Is Right 1st Time

One mail patron has words of high praise for rural mail carrier Jimmy Martin. He delivered a piece of mail addressed simply "Mr. and Mrs. Nash Spout Spring" and got the delivery right the first time. The reason? Mrs. Herman Nash, who now lives at Appomattox, Route 1, explains that mail carrier Martin considers his patrons "friends" and that he no doubt remembered that the Nashes lived for a time in Savannah, Ga. and thought about that when a letter came from that direction. "You'll never believe how we appreciate it," said Mrs. Nash. The mail contained a wedding invitation and concerned friends whom they like very much.

Farm Bureau Lauds Passage Of Two Bills

Two bills of major interest to farmers have survived this session of the General Assembly, according to Robert B. Delano, Virgina Farm Bureau president.

"The General Assembly took a vital step in seeking a solution to a critical shortage of physicians in rural Virginia by including a budget item to establish a department of family practice at the Medical College of Virginia," said Delano.

"Farm Bureau policy has supported this budget item," said Delano, "and has been working with the Va. Council of Health and Medical Care and the Va. Academy of General Practice to help relieve the shortage of general practicioners in rural areas."

Delano also commented on the passage of the bill to place a permanent ceiling on tobacco warehouse fees. The bill was sponsored by Delegate Howard Anderson of Halifax with approximately 30 co-signers. This Farm Bureau sponsored legislation was passed despite more than 50 tobacco farmers attended committee hearings.

Local Banker Attends Seminar

Fidelity National Bank held its annual Management Seminar last week at the Presidential Ramada Inn in Lynchburg. Attending this year's meeting were sixteen members of the Fidelity staff and two from American National Bank, Portsmouth, an affiliate in Fidelity American Bankshares, Inc.

The program was designed to cover all phases of banking and to include practical problems as well as case studies. Speakers from outside the bank included E. R. English, president of English's Inc. and a member of Fidelity's Board of Directors; Dr. Carl Stern, head of Randolph Macon Women's College Economics Department; and Mrs. Nancy E. Johnson, Traffic Service Adviser, Business Services, C & P Telephone Co. The group was welcomed by J. Lyons Davidson, Chairman of the Fidelity Board, and E. R. Harris, Jr., bank president.

Those attending included Floyd E. Williams, Appomattox.

Patrick Henry Boys Plantation Scholarship Fund Established

The Executive Board of the Patrick Henry Boys Plantation, at the expressed interest of Mrs. William Sydnor Barksdale and Miss Mary Morton Barksdale, recently established the Patrick Henry Boys Plantation Scholarship Fund. The Home is a home for non-delinquent boys from broken homes, with the youths ranging in ages from 10 years old through high school.

The purpose of the Fund is to provide financial aid to qualified high school graduates of the Patrick Henry Boys Plantation, enabling these boys to continue their education in college or vocational training. The financial resources of these young men are usually nonexistent. The establishment of the Fund will not only permit many boys to obtain a higher education, but will also motivate them to improve their high school work and aid them in planning future goals.

A Scholarship Fund committee has been organized to obtain funds and supervise the awarding of loans. Persons wishing to contribute to this Fund should address their gifts to Patrick Henry Boys Plantation, Inc. and designate "Scholarship Fund" on their checks. All contributions to the scholarship fund are tax deductible.

True Champion

The Reverend Wilbur G. Maxwell of Rt. 1, York, South Carolina and son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Maxwell of Pamplin has a pointer bird dog, "Royal Heir's John" who has been winning many awards lately including the Texas Open Championship.

The three year old pointer bird dog was bred and raised by Maxwell who showed him his first field trail at Dunville, Va. "John" has 12 wins to date including the Texas championship. He is believed to be the only field champion quail dog ever produced in York county. He and champion "Hazelhader's Royal Ace", also raised by Maxwell were among the competitors for the honor of National Champion on the Ames Plantation at Grand Junction Tenn. in February.
